

Delicious Cuisine

Holland-America Line chefs are noted for their Blue Ribbon creations. Menus for breakfast, luncheon and dinner are long and varied, offering an amazing choice of all the favorite American dishes as well as many famous European delicacies prepared in the manner of the countries of their origin. Each principal meal is a feast . . . a joy to the palate of particular epicures who like delicious food in abundance. And to keep apace with hearty, sea-going appetites, on Holland-America Line ships fresh bouillon is served at eleven every morning, tea with luscious pastries at four every afternoon, and a tempting buffet supper of cold cuts, sandwiches, salads, cakes and tea or coffee at eleven every evening for those who relish a snack before retiring.

Holland-America Line

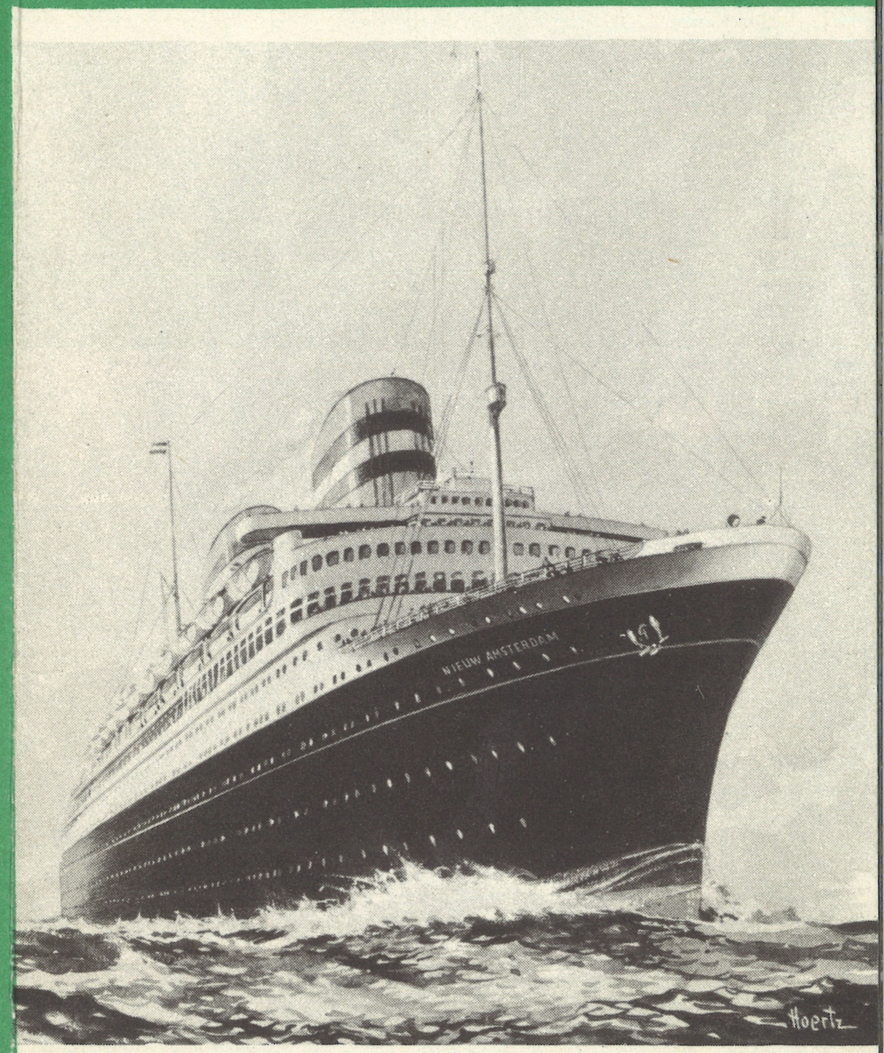

NEW YORK—ROTTERDAM—LONDON—PARIS

Passenger Offices and General Agencies in the United States, Canada, Cuba and Mexico

Atlanta, Ga.	88 Broad Street, N.W.
Baltimore, Md.	401 North Charles Street
Boston, Mass.	555 Boylston Street
Chicago, Ill.	318 North Michigan Avenue
Cleveland, Ohio	2025 East 14th Street
Detroit, Mich.	Room 202, Book Building
Los Angeles, Cal.	650 South Grand Avenue
Minneapolis, Minn.	728 Second Avenue, South
New Orleans, La.	1330 Whitney Building
New York, N. Y.	29 Broadway
Philadelphia, Pa.	N.E. Corner 17th & Walnut Streets
San Francisco, Cal.	304 Post Street
Seattle, Wash.	Room 401, 1411 Fourth Ave. Bldg.
St. Louis, Mo.	Suite 537-539, Arcade Building
Montreal, Que.	285 Notre Dame Street, West
Vancouver, B. C.	Marine Building
Havana	524 La Lonja Building
Mexico, D. F.	Av. Uruguay 48

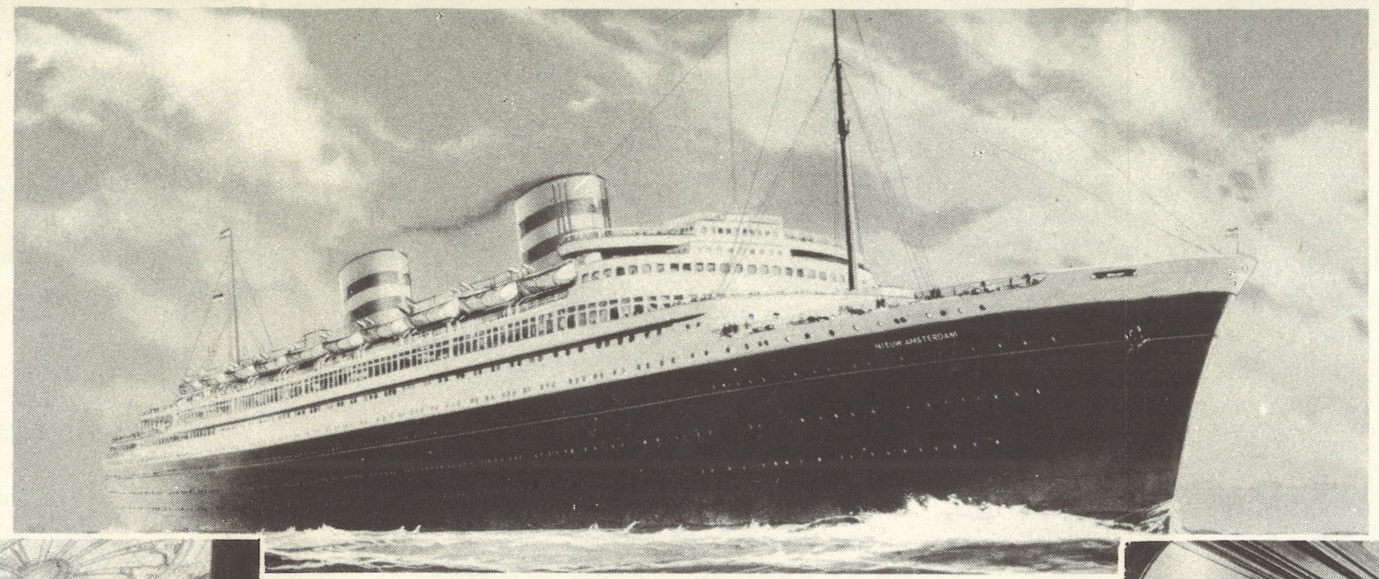

No. 1125 Printed in U.S.A. Jan. 25, 1939 Z.-W.

Famous Ships

of the

Holland America Line

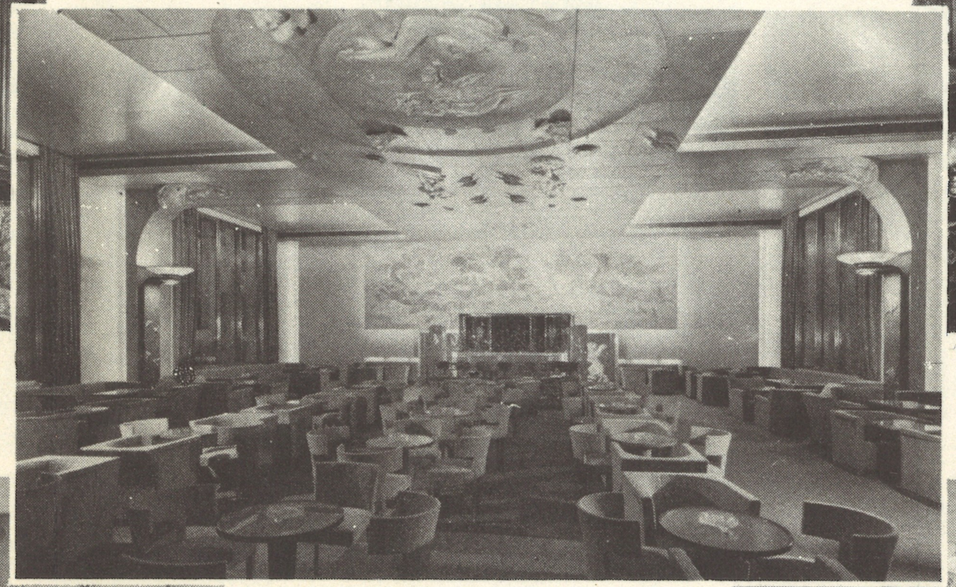

S. S. NIEUW AMSTERDAM

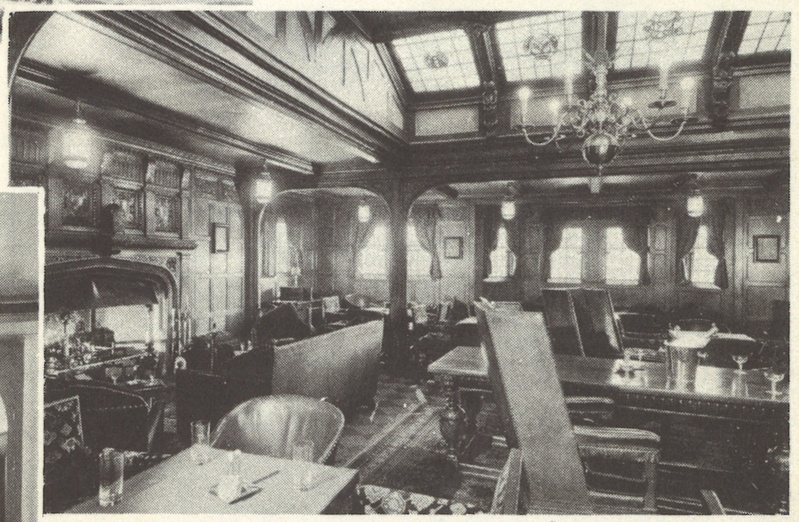

New Ultra-Modern Flagship of The Spotless Fleet.

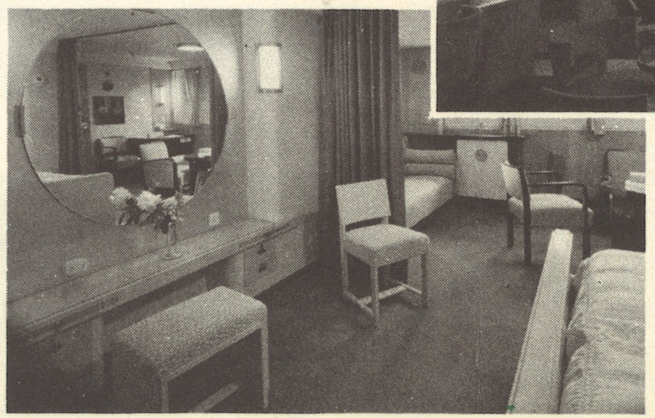

The richly appointed Cabin Class Main Lounge on the S. S. Statendam.

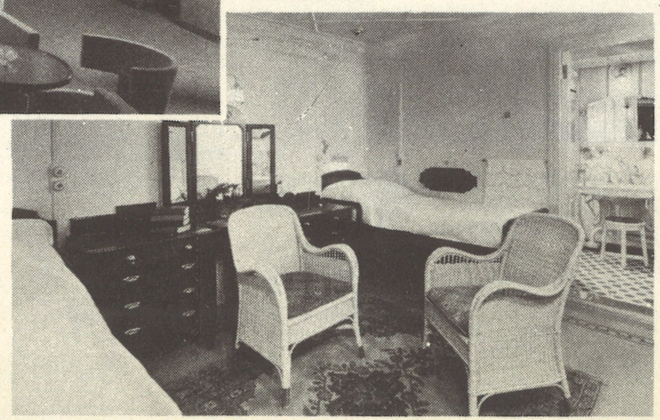

Grand Hall, Cabin Class, S. S. Nieuw Amsterdam.

The clubby panelled Cabin Class Smoking Room, S. S. Volendam and S. S. Veendam.

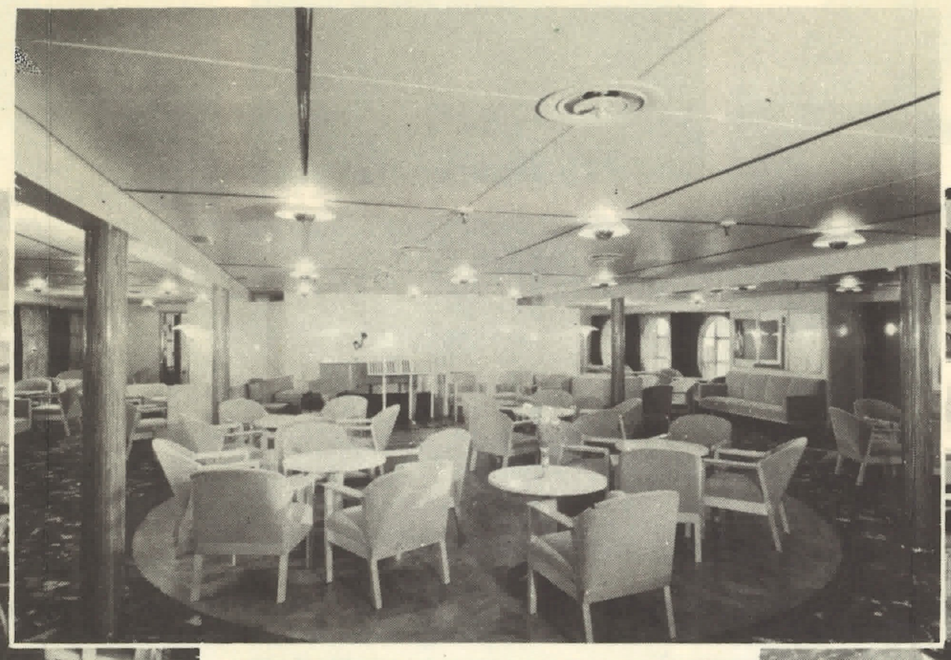

One of twelve de luxe Cabins in Cabin Class, S. S. Nieuw Amsterdam.

A spacious Cabin Class stateroom with private bath —S. S. Statendam.

Tourist Class Smoking Room-Bar,
S. S. Volendam—S. S. Veendam

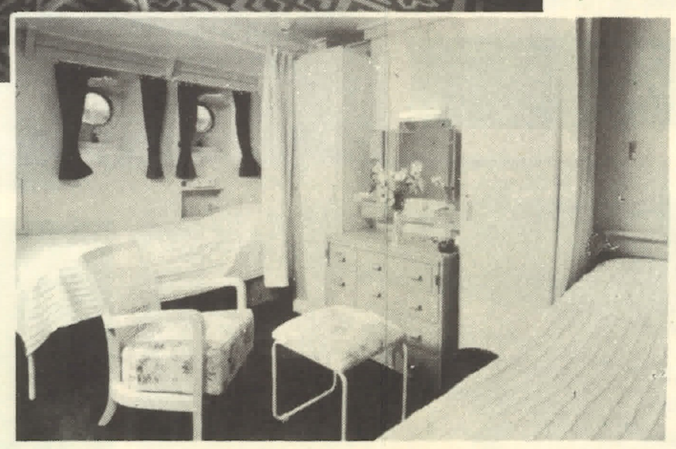

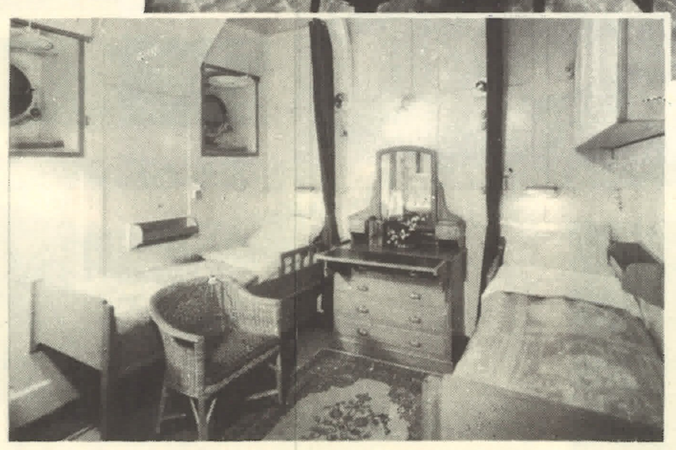

The charming Tourist Class Lounge,
S. S. Nieuw Amsterdam.

The comfortable, homelike Tourist Class Lounge,
S. S. Statendam.

A typical two-berth Tourist Class Cabin with private shower, aboard the S. S. Nieuw Amsterdam.

A two- or three-berth stateroom with hot and cold running water, S. S. Statendam.

Life at Sea Is Always Pleasant aboard Holland-America Line Ships

Regardless of whether you travel Cabin Class, Tourist Class or Third Class, on Holland-America Line ships there is so much diversion, wholesome pleasure, and rejuvenating sport to enjoy with so many delightful fellow voyagers, you wish that by some magic your trans-Atlantic trip could be extended to a world cruise. If ashore you live a busy life with one eye on the clock, at sea on Spotless Fleet ships you can sleep till all hours of the morning, and when you wake up, rested and hungry, just ring for your steward and order whatever you like for breakfast. You may feel like starting the day with a swim in the pool. Afterward, you may want to play a few games of deck tennis or shuffleboard or limber up in the gymnasium. At eleven, the deck stewards will serve piping hot bouillon, and from then until luncheon time you can curl up in your deck chair to read a good book or to doze for an hour or so, breathing deeply of the bracing sea air. Before you realize it, luncheon will be served; a feast chosen from a menu of many tempting, delectable dishes prepared by the Holland-America Line's famous chefs. You may idle away your afternoons reading in the Library, writing letters, reviewing your plans, snoozing in your deck chair, taking a sun bath on the Sun Deck, seeing one of the new movies, or betting on the horse or turtle races. Tea at four-thirty leaves time for a few hours of rest before you bathe and dress for the evening. Dinner, of course, is always a culinary event on Holland-America Line ships, for then the chefs do full justice to their art and your healthy appetite. While the concert orchestra plays softly, the choicest hors d'oeuvre, soups, fish, roasts, fowl, salads, desserts and pastries are served with Continental grace by stewards who, after a day or two, seem more thoughtful, more attentive than your favorite servants at home. When you have finished sipping your coffee and liqueur in the Lounge, you will want to try out some of the newest steps to the popular music of the dance orchestra.

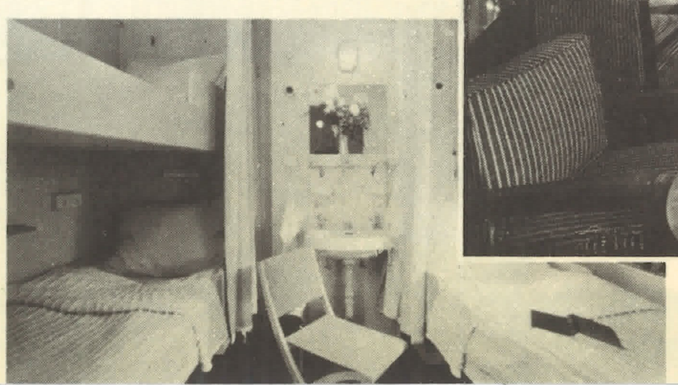

The cheerful Third Class Lounge,
S. S. Statendam.

The delightful Third Class
Writing Room-Library,
S. S. Nieuw Amsterdam.

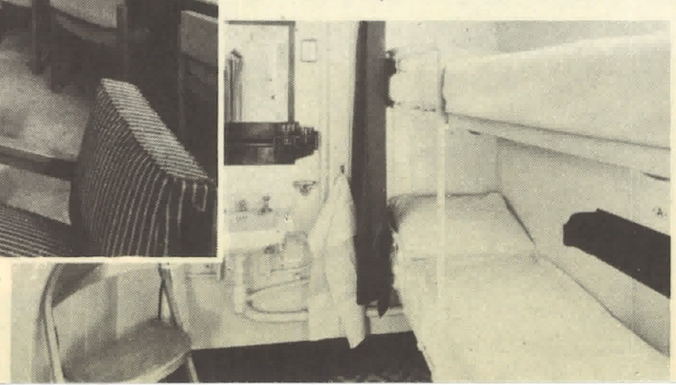

Third Class Dining Salon,
S. S. Volendam—S. S. Veendam.

A Third Class stateroom, on the S. S. Nieuw Amsterdam.

A Third Class stateroom, aboard the S. S. Statendam.